The Art of Peace

By Morihei Ueshiba; translated and edited by John Stevens
$16.95 - TR

About the Book

The inspirational teachings in this collection show that the real way of the warrior is based on compassion, wisdom, fearlessness, and love of nature. The teachings are drawn from the talks and writings of Morihei Ueshiba, founder of the popular Japanese martial art of Aikido, a mind-body discipline he called the “Art of Peace,” which offers a nonviolent way to victory in the face of conflict. Ueshiba believed that Aikido principles could be applied to all the challenges we face in life—in personal and business relationships, and in our interactions with society.

This is an expanded version of the original miniature edition that appeared in the Shambhala Pocket Classics series. It features a new introduction by John Stevens, recently translated doka, didactic “poems of the Way,” and Ueshiba’s own calligraphy.

About the Author

MORIHEI UESHIBA (1883–1969) was the founder of Aikido. At age eighteen, Ueshiba joined the Japanese military, during which time he also developed his skills in the martial arts. He eventually left the military, deeply discouraged by the death and destruction that results from combat. Ueshiba continued to experiment with a variety of martial arts, finding particular joy in the spiritual aspects of martial arts. He came to believe that a real warrior was one who was rooted in love, and it was in this spirit that he began to develop Aikido, a martial art that emphasizes harmony and the peaceful resolution of conflict.

Reviews

“This small, elegant book is filled with the wisdom and artistry of a great man. This collection of Morihei Ueshiba’s sayings and poetry resonates with deep meaning, making this a gem of a book. The book itself is of very high quality—compact and well-bound, with clear print and beautifully reproduced images of

Casting Indra's Net

Fostering Spiritual Kinship and Community

By Pamela Ayo Yetunde

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

A heartfelt call and primer for community-oriented models of wellbeing in our age of polarization and turmoil.

Creating compassionate communities takes more than good will—it requires a dedication to respecting cultural differences while remembering the fundamental spiritual kinship that exists between all people. Activist, counselor, and Buddhist teacher Ayo Yetunde creatively unpacks this condition through the metaphor of Indra's Net—a universal net in which all beings reflect each other like jewels. She offers a practice path that acknowledges our deep challenges—challenges that increasingly give rise to the temptation of group violence, which she calls mobbery—while showing exactly how we can still listen, learn, and heal together. Drawing inspiration from the Black liberation tradition and from stories from various religions, Yetunde recasts Indra's Net as the network in which we all have the choice either to succumb to our impulses toward division and brutality or renew our civility and love for each other.

The more than 20 practices in Casting Indra's Net include:

- Five commitments for healthy, nonviolent living
- Guided contemplation to water the seeds of your spiritual potential
- “Mirroring” and “twinning” other people
- Tonglen (receiving and releasing) and lovingkindness meditations
- Affirmations

About the Author

PAMELA AYO YETUNDE, JD, ThD, is an activist, lay Buddhist teacher, professor, counselor, and writer. She is the coeditor of Black and Buddhist: What Buddhism Can Teach Us About Race, Resilience, Transformation, and Freedom as well as the author of two volumes on pastoral care. She also serves as an associate editor for Lion's Roar magazine. Ayo has been featured on NBC.com, the Tamron Hall Show, and Sisters of AARP, and she appears regularly in major online summits concerning spirituality and caregiving. A cofounder of the Center of the Heart, she lives in Chicago, Illinois.

Good Fengshui

A Step-by-Step Guide to Creating Balance and Harmony in Your Home

By Eva Wong

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

This practical, easy-to-use guide to the ancient practice of fengshui will give you invaluable advice as you choose or build a home—and bring positive, healthy energy to your existing home, office, or garden.

Enhance the energy of your home, workplace, or garden using the principles of the Taoist art of fengshui. This primer will teach you to bring harmonizing, beneficial energy into any space. Taoist arts master Eva Wong introduces readers to the powerful traditional system of fengshui, which is deeply rooted in Taoist and shamanic origins. Fengshui is not simply a list of directives for building auspicious structures or arranging interiors for good luck—it is the art of reading the patterns of the universe and living in harmony with the environment. Bedrooms with good fengshui maximize health and minimize illnesses. Kitchens with good fengshui maximize livelihood and health. Home offices with good fengshui facilitate business vision and accumulation of wealth. Even garages, driveways, and gardens can affect our health, livelihood, and the way we interact with the world. Whether you are buying, renting, or renovating a home—or you want to change the atmosphere and energy of the home you are in—Wong will teach you to identify and work with the possibilities and limitations of your space. In this concise book, Wong explains the essential principles and guidelines of fengshui; offers tips for home buyers, including architectural positives and negatives and neighborhood perks and challenges; shows you how to assess your living and work spaces and garden and outdoor spaces; identifies fengshui problems and offers strategies for fixing them; and much more.

As the owner of a construction and engineering business, Wong's recommendations are practical, safe, and economical.

About the Author

EVA WONG is a fengshui practitioner, independent Taoist scholar, and a practitioner of the Taoist Alchemical Arts. She has operated a fengshui consultation business worldwide, including Hong Kong, China, Taiwan, Europe, North and South America, and Australia. The range of her fengshui consultation includes residential and commercial projects, religious and spiritual centers, urban planning, and large-scale institutions such as schools, hospitals, financial institutions, and government offices. She has published over sixteen books on fengshui, Taoism, and strategy.

How Not to Be a Hot Mess

A Buddhist Survival Guide for Modern Life

By devon and nico hase; foreword by Rhonda V. Magee
$18.95 - TR

About the Book

The dumpster fire of life rages on, but you got this. Practice six rules to keep you grounded, weather the storm, and actually be a decent person.

It may seem like the world is going to hell in a hand basket right now. Whether it's big stuff like politics and climate change, or just the daily spin of paying your bills, getting to work on time, and fending off social media trolls, we can all admit, modern life ain't easy. Here are six really good guiding principles, inspired from the ancient wisdom of Buddhism and mindfulness practice, to keep you anchored and steady amidst the chaos.

Author the Authors

DEVON and NICO HASE mentor dharma practitioners online, teach meditation on the Simple Habit app, and lead meditation retreats throughout North America and Europe. Devon teaches at the Insight Meditation Society and Spirit Rock and mentors mindfulness teachers for Jack Kornfield and Tara Brach's Mindfulness Meditation Teacher Certification Program. Nico spent six years in a Zen monastery and then completed a PhD in counseling psychology before making his topsy-turvy transition into teaching mindfulness, meditation, and dharma full time. Devon and Nico have studied closely with Joseph Goldstein, Tara Brach, Yongey Mingyur Rinpoche, and many others in the Insight, Zen, and Vajrayana traditions. These days they live together in urban retreat in Ashland, Oregon, splitting each week between retreat practice and dharma mentoring. Their first book, How Not to Be a Hot Mess: A Survival Guide for Modern Life, offers six prime pieces of semi-Buddhist advice to keep you anchored and steady amidst the chaos of modern life.

Reviews

"Smart, deep, and inspiring, this 'survival guide' shines a light on the societal forces that confuse our minds and close our hearts, and offers doable and rewarding ways to clear, heal, and free ourselves. You have in your hands a fun-to-read book that can up-level your game as an awake, honest, kind, generous, happy being."—Tara Brach, author of Radical Acceptance

"For devon and nico hase, a clear mind and wise choices are what enable us to define ourselves in a frenetic world. Writing with a combination of wit, refreshing honesty, and wisdom, they give us a guide to reclaiming our true selves from the definitions of the world, so that we can enjoy the happiness this brings."—Sharon Salzberg, author of Lovingkindness and Real Happiness

How We Live Is How We Die

By Pema Chödrön

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

Discover newfound freedom in life's ever-constant flow of endings and beginnings with the wise words of Pema Chödrön, beloved Buddhist nun and bestselling author of When Things Fall Apart.

New in paperback!

As much as we might try to resist, endings happen in every moment—the end of a breath, the end of a day, the end of a relationship, and ultimately the end of life. And accompanying each ending is a beginning, though it may be unclear what the beginning holds. In How We Live Is How We Die, Pema Chödrön shares her wisdom for working with this flow of life—learning to live with ease, joy, and compassion through uncertainty, embracing new beginnings, and ultimately preparing for death with curiosity and openness rather than fear.

Poignant for readers of all ages, her teachings on the bardos—a Tibetan term referring to a state of transition, including what happens between this life and the next—reveal their power and relevance at each moment of our lives. She also offers practical methods for transforming life's most challenging emotions about change and uncertainty into a path of awakening and love. As she teaches, the more freedom we can find in our hearts and minds as we live this life, the more fearlessly we'll be able to confront death and what lies beyond. In all, Pema provides readers with a master course in living life fully and compassionately in the shadow of death and change.

About the Author

PEMA CHÖDRÖN is an American Buddhist nun in the lineage of Chögyam Trungpa and resident teacher at Gampo Abbey in Nova Scotia, the first Tibetan Buddhist monastery in North America established for Westerners. She is the author of many bestselling books, including When Things Fall Apart and Welcoming the Unwelcome.

Reviews

"Chödrön's clarity and warmth make this book accessible to a wide array of audiences. Oft-quoted, much beloved, and radiating kindness, Chödrön remains a guiding light for those seeking spiritual growth."—

Library Journal

"Instructive, compassionate, and welcoming, How We Live Is How We Die works to ease fearful attitudes toward death and improve people's daily lives through spiritual renewal and release."—Foreword

The I Ching Oracle

A 64-Card Illustrated Deck and Guidebook

By Catherine Pilfrey

$29.95 - NT

About the Book

The ancient wisdom of the I Ching is reimagined for today's world in this beautifully designed 64-card deck, which will help you access your inner wisdom, thrive in the face of change, and make decisions with confidence.

The I Ching, or the Book of Changes, is an ancient book of wisdom and guidance—rooted in Daoist and Confucian philosophy—on how to live fully and nobly while managing life's ups and downs.

This beautiful, thoughtfully conceived card deck presents the I Ching as a contemporary guide and oracle, answering questions like: How can I be my best self in any situation? How do I handle a tough conversation with my partner or co-worker? How do I find a fulfilling career?

The I Ching is made up of 64 hexagrams—a combination of six straight and broken lines—that encompass all of life's experiences and comprise all the possible combinations of Yin and Yang. Each card features one hexagram with its accompanying guidance, which is written to be easily understood, empowering, and optimistic.

Traditionally, consulting the I Ching involved throwing coins or yarrow sticks and referring to a book that contained antiquated and often-opaque language. This relevant, fresh, and accessible deck reimagines the I Ching without archaic vocabulary and confusing metaphors. Just ask a question and then pull a card to access your intuitive voice and be guided on your best path forward.

The I Ching Oracle card box contains:

- 64 hexagram cards in myriad colors with unique patterns inspired by Asian, African, Mayan, and Aboriginal motifs that communicate the energy of each hexagram
- A 100-page color guidebook with information on the I Ching and detailed explanations for each card
- A beautifully designed magnetic-closure book box with a ribbon pull tab for the cards

About the Author

CATHERINE PILFREY has been consulting the I Ching for the past 25 years and has been practicing meditation since she was a teenager. She is a meditation teacher who has taught at the Boston Shambhala Meditation Center and in various corporate settings, including Life is Good and Yesware in Boston. She teaches online at MindfulAware.com meditation community. She is also an art director, a graphic designer, and a health and nutrition coach.

The Lost Art of Silence

Reconnecting to the Power and Beauty of Quiet

By Sarah Anderson

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

A unique celebration of silence—in art, literature, nature, and spirituality—and an exploration of its ability to bring inner peace, widen our perspectives, and inspire the human spirit in spite of the noise of contemporary life.

The pursuit of silence can force you to confront yourself, which is why many people do everything they can to try and avoid it—often filling their world with vacuous sound. But it can also be transformative. Ultimately, embracing quiet—in contemplation, meditation, in nature, or even by examining certain kinds of media—is necessary for personal and societal growth because it invites us to widen our perspective and become better listeners, and it makes room for a more compassionate approach to the world.

Though our lives are bookmarked in silence—coming from an insulated womb, and going to another stillness in death—during our lifetime, we compete with exterior noise and a near-constant interior dialogue that judges, analyzes, compares, and questions. But, if we can get past this barrage, there lies a quiet place well worth the search. This book encourages people to embrace this search, shedding light on silence through the lenses of topics including:

- spirituality,
- nature,
- lived experiences,
- the arts,
- darker sides of quiet,
- and ways forward.

Throughout, the author shares her own personal relationship and experiences with silence as well as perspectives from a diverse array of cultural figures like musicians, meditators, writers, and artists whose work emanates a profound feeling of quiet.

The Mysterion

Rumi and the Secret of Becoming Fully Human

By Kabir Helminski
$21.95 - TR

About the Book

A contemporary exploration into the meaning and possibility of our human existence, through the universal insights of the 13th-century Persian poet and Sufi mystic Rumi—by pre-eminent Rumi translator Kabir Helminski.

The 13th-century poet and mystic Rumi has become one of the most popular spiritual voices of our time—known and loved by people of many faiths and worldviews for his rich metaphors, images, poems, and stories. The Mysterion deepens our appreciation of his teachings by illuminating both the practical psychological dimension behind them, as well as the universal spiritual truths they offer about what it means to be human. In this philosophical survey, Kabir Helminski, one of the foremost translators and writers of Sufi texts, gives us a contemporary lens through which to view and understand the “Mysterion,” the unifying concept that bridges the human and the divine—and that connects the individual soul with spiritual Reality. This book is centered on that core, unifying concept of the Mysterion: the essence and intrinsic meaning of being human. Rumi, says Helminski, would suggest that in our human existence we might accomplish many marvels, but they will amount to little if we neglect cultivating the divine potential within us. Like a mirror, he says, we can reflect a spectrum of divine qualities depending on how polished and clean our mirror is. Likewise, our mirrors can become distorted and corroded by egoism and negativity. Our practical work, says Helminski (and Rumi), is to remove distortions from our souls and align ourselves with this higher-order reality and divine agency through humility, reverence, surrender, and love.

About the Author

KABIR HELMINSKI has been translating Rumi and writing about spirituality for more than forty years. He is a respected teacher—a Shaikh of the Mevlevi Order, which traces back to Rumi. His translations of Rumi are among the most popular and respected for their literary faithfulness and beauty. He has written for Tikkun, Patheos.com, Times of India, and Huffington Post, among others.

Nondual Love

Awakening to the Loving Nature of Reality

By A. H. Almaas; foreword by Ram Dass

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

From beloved author and teacher A. H. Almaas, an exploration of love beyond the boundaries of the individual self, revealing that nondual love is the nature of everything, including ourselves.

Love is a transformative aspect of the spiritual path—and in fact, it is our very nature. A. H. Almaas takes us on a journey beyond a narrow, individual understanding of love to an exploration of what he calls the boundless dimension of divine love. This divine love is not the kind of love that we feel toward somebody else; it is nondual, a love without boundaries. Or put another way, it is nondual true nature experienced as love. By shifting our focus beyond the individual human experience to the experience of the wholeness of existence, we are able to see the true richness of the universe. When we are open to the dimension of divine love, we begin to experience our true nature, free from limitations—a sense of complete release, freedom, and delight, free of conflict, fear, insecurity, and worry. Almaas discusses the obstacles and obscurations that make it difficult to awaken to true nature in this way, such as our belief in a separate self and our past conditioning. Each chapter includes an inquiry or practice to explore the themes further such as explorations of attachments and worldly desires, as well as experiences of union, surrender, and grace.

About the Author

A. H. ALMAAS, the author of more than a dozen books, is the pen name of A. Hameed Ali, the originator of the Diamond Approach to the realization of our true nature. Since 1976, he has guided individuals and groups through his school of inner work, the Ridhwan School, which has branches in California, Colorado, and Europe. His most recent books are Love

Unveiled, The Alchemy of Freedom, The Power of Divine Eros, The Unfolding Now, and Runaway Realization.

Painting from the Palette of Love

The Mystical Poetry of Kabir

By Thomas Rain Crowe

$17.95 - TR

About the Book

Wrap yourself in the boundless love of the Divine with the mystical poetry of renowned Sufi saint Kabir, here brought to life for modern readers by acclaimed poet Thomas Rain Crowe.

"When you've come all this way to the ocean of happiness, Do not return home thirsty with an empty cup.

Wake up! Here is some pure water, Drink as much as you can!"

The enigmatic Indian mystical poet Kabir stands among the greatest spiritual thinkers of human history. At once a Sufi, Hindu, and unbounded disciple of the universal Divine, Kabir and his songs of union and ecstasy lead us beyond our preconceived biases about truth and reality—and invite us to see our life, through his eyes, as an ego-shattering and incomparably joyful dance with the Beloved.

This 65-poem collection of Kabir's most rapturous spiritual songs, rendered into modern language by acclaimed poet and Sufi performing artist Thomas Rain Crowe, is brought to life in fresh, evocative language bursting with mystical power. As striking and profound now as when they were originally composed in fifteenth-century India, these poems offer a sumptuous taste of true reality—beyond boundaries of religion and culture, beyond divisions of self and other, and in joyful embrace of life and our world.

About the Author

THOMAS RAIN CROWE is an internationally published and recognized author of more than thirty books, including the multi-award-winning nature memoir Zoro's Field: My Life in the Appalachian Woods and numerous collections of poetry, including Learning to Dance, The Laugharne Poems, and modern renditions of the poetry of the Sufi mystic poet Hafiz (In Wineseller's Street; Drunk on the Wine of the Beloved). The founder and publisher of New Native Press, a small literary press started in 1979, he lives in the Tuckasegee watershed of North Carolina.

Returning the Self to Nature

Undoing Our Collective Narcissism and Healing Our Planet

By Jeanine M. Canty

$18.95 - TR

About the Book

Using the lens of ecopsychology, Returning the Self to Nature shows that the pervasive and extreme forms of narcissism we find in many modern societies are fundamentally the result of alienation from the natural world. But it doesn't have to be that way. Returning the Self to Nature is written for the person who no longer wishes to function in a world that revolves around selfish, disconnected identity models and yearns to step into healthy relationships with one's self, one's community, and our planet. Seeing the suffering of the planet and that of humans as inseparably linked—the ecological crisis as psychological crisis, and vice versa—opens the door to a mutuality of healing between people and nature. Through unflinching analysis and meditation practices that encourage visualizing and embodying the wild naturalness of being human, the reader will gain skills to begin experiencing a courageous, pluralistic, and ecological self. This book is an invitation to wake up from the dream of the false self and join the movement toward social and planetary healing.

The Self-Talk Workout

Six Science-Backed Strategies to Dissolve Self-Criticism and Transform the Voice in Your Head

By Rachel Goldsmith Turow, PhD

$18.95 - TR

About the Book

Self-talk matters, but what methods of building healthy self-talk actually work? This how-to guide shares evidence-based techniques to go from being your own worst critic to your own best friend. Perhaps you want to be nicer to yourself but don't really know how to get there. Or maybe you're someone who assumes self-criticism is a permanent part of your personality. Rest assured you're not alone—millions of people struggle with the toll that excessive self-criticism takes on their minds, energy levels, jobs, and relationships. And problems with self-talk vary dramatically from one person to the next: they can appear as mild but persistent inner criticism, full-blown self-loathing, or the pain of internalized oppression or abuse. After over twenty years of working with individuals, groups, and classes on self-criticism and related challenges, psychologist and mindfulness teacher Dr. Rachel Goldsmith Turow offers the “self-talk workout”—six doable exercises that can help you replace self-criticism with self-kindness and self-encouragement. Specific self-talk strategies such as “Spot the success,” “Fail forward,” and “Allowing all feelings, skillfully,” require just a few minutes a day. These skills can be practiced individually to transform your self-talk, or you can choose to combine two or more exercises to enhance your self-talk workout.

About the Author

DR. RACHEL GOLDSMITH TUROW is a psychotherapist in private practice, a research scientist, and an adjunct faculty member at Seattle University and the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai.

We Heal Together

Rituals and Practices for Building Community and Connection

By Michelle Cassandra Johnson

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

A hopeful, wise, and practical guide to help us move into spaces of individual and collective healing, community, and relationship building—with practices to shed our isolation, connect, and thrive.

In times of isolation, heartbreak, and brokenness, reaching out to each other, being in conversation, and finding ways to connect with compassion and openness can help us heal and thrive. This powerful, positive guide coaxes us to go beyond our individual and collective grief and courageously re-enter and reclaim our sense of community—which then further strengthens our spiritual practice.

Through spiritual teachings drawn from the Bhagavad Gita, mindfulness practices, rituals, resources, and journaling prompts in each chapter, Michelle Cassandra Johnson shows us how we can heal and facilitate healing; reclaim what it means to hold space and build community; find joy; connect to and summon support from our ancestors; connect with nature to strengthen and restore ourselves; and love, alchemize, dream, and conjure in community.

Examples of practices include journaling on what community means to you, meditation with a ritual object, progressive muscle relaxation, Yoga Nidra, and many more—all adapted for use alone or in a group. Includes simple, evocative line drawings by Vashon Island, WA-artist, Ivan Moy.

Wild Mind, Wild Earth

Our Place in the Sixth Extinction

By David Hinton

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

Is planetary healing possible through the wildness of our own minds? This literary exploration of ancient Chinese spirituality and modern Western environmentalism plumbs the radical and promising kinship between mind and nature. Renowned translator and author David Hinton discovers parallels between the writings of ancient Chinese poets and Ch'an (Zen) masters and those of landscape poet Robinson Jeffers (1887–1962) and other ecologically minded Western writers. These two bodies of work, though centuries apart, point to the deep wound inevitably caused by dualistic views of humanity and nature—and raise the prospect of removing the illusion of separation. We may yet find the inspiration to heal our living planet if we understand that the sixth great extinction event now unfolding around us is at its root a spiritual and philosophical problem. "It is the assumptions defining us and our relation to the earth that drive the destruction," writes Hinton. "The wound that insists we are radically different and qualitatively more valuable than the rest of existence. We love this world, and there is an unnoticed philosophical revolution inherent in that love."

About the Author

DAVID HINTON's many translations of ancient Chinese poetry and philosophy have earned wide acclaim for creating compelling contemporary works that convey the actual texture and density of the originals. The author of countless books of essays and poetry, Hinton has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship, numerous fellowships from the N.E.A. and the N.E.H, the Landon Translation Award, the PEN American Translation Award, and a lifetime achievement award by The American Academy of Arts and Letters.

The Wild and Sacred Feminine Deck

A 52-Card Oracle and Guidebook

By Niki Dewart and Elizabeth Marglin

Illustrated by Jenny Kostecki-Shaw

$35.00 - Card deck

About the Book

Gorgeously illustrated 52-card deck and guidebook with empowering archetypes of the sacred feminine to amplify your innate knowing and invigorate your potential. Honoring the potent and tumultuous time we live in, this insightful oracle deck is an invocation of the sacred feminine and a source of insight for clarity, confirmation, and guidance. Separated into four facets of the feminine—Wild (Butterfly, Lioness), Elemental (Mountain, Smoke), Archetypal (Muse, Shapeshifter), and Divine (Inanna, Oshun)—the cards explore a beautiful chaos where all things are possible. Each card displays a gorgeous, vibrant, original oil painting offering an inspiring artistic representation of the figure or element. The cards come in a cigar-style box with magnetic closure, pull-out ribbon, and foil-stamped case. Also included in the box is a full-color guidebook, which offers ideas for single-card draws and unique multi-card spreads along with inspiring quotations and an open-ended exploration of each card's light and shadow aspects. The feminine creates and destroys, adapts and abides, sutures and sunders. Your own potential is reflected in her many faces.

12 Science-backed Strategies to Ditch Guilt,
Manage Overwhelm, and Grow Connection
(When Everything Feels Like Too Much)

By Yael Schonbrun, PhD
$17.95 - TR

About the Book

Twelve practical strategies to experience more joy and feel less guilt as a working parent, drawn from ACT, the groundbreaking therapy technique that has helped countless people. Dr. Yael Schonbrun calls out the myth of the work-life balance and offers practical strategies that can help us reframe our approach to working and parenting from the inside out. Based in Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT), these strategies won't create more hours in the day, but they can shift how we label our experiences, revise the stories we tell ourselves about working and parenting, and recognize the value we get from each role. Differing values and commitments pull working parents in opposite directions and the social supports families desperately need are lacking. Yet even with these very real challenges, we can find more peace and less stress.

About the Author

Yael Schonbrun, PhD, is assistant professor of psychology at Brown University, a family therapist, and co-host of the podcast Psychologists Off the Clock. In 2014, she wrote a piece on motherhood and ambition for the New York Times that went viral. She has since contributed a chapter to Double Bind: Women on Ambition alongside Roxane Gay, Molly Ringwald, and others and has written for Psychology Today.

Yin Mountain

The Immortal Poetry of Three Daoist Women

Translated by Peter Levitt and Rebecca Nie
$19.95 - TR

About the Book

Yin Mountain presents a fascinating window onto the lives of three Tang Dynasty Daoist women poets. Li Ye (c. 734–784), Xue Tao (c. 768–832), and Yu Xuanji (843–868) lived and wrote during the period when Chinese poetry reached its greatest height. Yet while the names of the male poets of this era, such as Tu Fu, Li Bo, and Wang Wei, are all easily recognized, the names of its accomplished women poets are hardly known at all. Through the lenses of mysticism, naturalism, and ordinary life, the five dozen poems collected here express these women's profound devotion to Daoist spiritual practice. Their interweaving of plain but poignant and revealing speech with a compelling and inventive use of imagery expresses their creative relationship to the myths, legends, and traditions of Daoist Goddess culture. Also woven throughout the rich tapestry of their writing are their sensuality and their hard-wrought, candid emotions about their personal loves and losses. Despite that, these poets' extraordinary skills were recognized during their lifetimes, as women they struggled relentlessly for artistic, emotional, and financial independence befitting their talent. The poems exude the charged charisma of their refusal to hold back within a culture, much like our own, that was cosmopolitan yet still restrictive of women's freedom. Skillfully introduced and translated by acclaimed translators Peter Levitt and Rebecca Nie, these wonderful poems will resonate with the lives of spiritual practitioners today, especially women.

About the Authors

PETER LEVITT is a longtime student of Zen and the author of ten books of poetry, including Within Within, One Hundred Butterflies, and Bright Root, Dark Root. He is also the author of Fingerpainting on the Moon: Writing and Creativity as a Path to Freedom, co-translator (with Kazuaki Tanahashi) of A Flock of Fools: Ancient Buddhist Tales of Wisdom and Laughter, and the editor of Thich Nhat Hanh's classic The Heart of Understanding. In 1989, Levitt received the prestigious Lannan Foundation Award in Poetry.

REBECCA NIE was born in China in 1985, began studying internationally after moving to Canada in 2001, and now works as the Buddhist Chaplain-Affiliate at Stanford University. Ms. Nie is also a transmitted Zen Master of the Korean Jogye Order and founding abbot of M.V. Seon Sanctuary, offering systematic training in Eastern spiritual-wisdom traditions.

The Essential Guide to Trauma Sensitive Yoga

How to Create Safer Spaces for All

By Lara Land

$29.95 - TR

About the Book

An essential manual for yoga teachers and students to create a trauma-sensitive practice that benefits and supports all—and alienates no one.

People are turning to yoga for its stress-reducing practice and transformative philosophy. But for those who have a trauma history, the practice can be triggering. The Essential Guide to Trauma Sensitive Yoga offers an inclusive approach to yoga for teachers and students of all ages and abilities, especially those who have experienced trauma.

Some of the themes covered include:

- How do the impacts of trauma show up in yoga spaces
- Suggested language for shifting power to the practitioner
- How to create an environment conducive to healing
- How to practice or teach poses in a way that includes all

This book is beautifully illustrated with 260 photos of poses and sequences, modeled by trauma survivors who share stories of how yoga helps them heal. Land works with people of all ages, from young children to seniors, who are coping with a range of traumas including physical, emotional, and sexual abuse, homelessness, genocide, and incarceration. She is a passionate advocate for making the benefits of yoga and mindfulness available to all.

About the Author

LARA LAND is a Level 2 authorized Ashtanga Yoga teacher with two decades of yoga experience. She has worked in Rwanda and India, among other places, teaching yoga and mindful living and developing programs to heal and empower. She is the founder of Land Yoga, a Yoga, Arts & Wellness Center in the heart of Harlem, and her nonprofit community organization, Three and a Half Acres Yoga.

Get Fit Where You Sit

A Guide to the Lakshmi Voelker Chair Yoga Method

By Lakshmi Voelker and Liz Oppedijk

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

Get Fit Where You Sit offers a pioneering method of chair yoga for every body: a full practice of asana, breathing, and meditation with 250 instructional photos.

Designed and taught by Lakshmi Voelker, the LV Chair Yoga (TM) method upends the myth that yoga is only for the flexible, strong, balanced, thin, and conventionally able-bodied. This book highlights 40 active and restorative poses, including individual and partner poses, breathing techniques, and meditation practices, all adapted so that students never have to leave their chairs. For every pose, Voelker offers at least three different ways of experiencing it, depending on an individual's level of flexibility, and suggests ways to incorporate breath work and chanting. Voelker includes healthy lifestyle practices and teaching tips, along with yoga philosophy "lessons" throughout. Examples include: Tree Pose—for a flexible spine and to combat the "slump" we often get in our sedentary lifestyle; Eagle Pose—for healthy joints; Squat Pose—to relax the lower back; Knee-to-Chest Pose—to support good digestion; Coherent breathing—to bring the body's systems into balance; and much more.

Voelker offers a powerful, inclusive practice that is appropriate for new students or long-time practitioners and can easily be adopted by yoga instructors, educators, medical professionals, exercise professionals, or caretakers for work with their clients.

Moon Path Yoga

Kundalini Practices and Rituals for Women to Align with the Lunar Cycles

By Sierra Hollister

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

Experience the powerful, revitalizing, feminine “lunar” energy at the heart of Kundalini yoga practice, through this beautifully illustrated guide with over 170 asana, pranayama, mantra, and meditations for practitioners of all levels. One of the oldest forms of yoga, Kundalini Yoga is a timeless tradition that includes powerful, specific teachings for anyone identifying as female. These “lunar” practices not only support well-being, health, and vitality through every stage of life, but also awaken and enhance Shakti—the divine feminine, creative life force. Sierra Hollister helps women discover their unique moon cycle and offers specific sequences (kriya) for daily life, for mothering, for sexuality and relationships—as well as practices, breathing exercises, mudra, mantra, and recipes to provide support and balance. Moon Path Yoga offers a comprehensive lunar rhythm practice that allows women of any age to awaken their innate divine feminine energy. Illustrated with over 125 color photos, this guide includes: practices for radiance, vitality, and grace gestating; a prenatal sequence meditation for a calm heart; meditations for couples; and a sequence to relieve PMS or to slow down and experience gratitude.

Teach People, Not Poses

Lessons in Yoga Anatomy and Functional Movement to Unlock Body Intelligence

By Mary Richards, MS

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

Honor your yoga students' unique practice with this essential guide to identifying and supporting healthy, safe movement for every body. Includes more than 80 exercises and 43 instructional drawings.

Teach People, Not Poses is the manual that yoga teachers and yoga therapists need to help their students step onto the mat on their own terms, comfortably and safely. Mary Richards, a yoga teacher, yoga therapist, and expert in kinesiology and anatomy, says that we leave too many people off the mat due to overly aggressive pace, sequence, and ambition in asana. She offers advice, techniques, observations, practices, and sequences to give teachers and yoga therapists the tools they need to move beyond the popular ideas of "should" on the mat.

To safely guide others in asana, especially when people come to the mat for relief from residual effects of acute injuries, chronic pain, and repetitive strain, yoga teachers need to understand what is typical and atypical in terms of posture and movement. Richards offers teachers myriad exercises to address imbalances and promote strength, such as: "Tighten the Corset" for deep core training; "Forearm Chaturanga/Plank" to develop core strength and stability; "Revolved Warrior I with Resistance Band" for core stabilization; "Wall-supported Downward-facing Dog" to activate the abdominal muscles and support the lower back.

This unique book masterfully blends yoga philosophy with practical body knowledge and physical core stabilization skills so that asana is truly an individualized expression—and what the Yoga Sutras describe as sthira sukham asanam, asana that is steady and comfortable.

About the Author

MARY RICHARDS, MS, C-IAYT, ERYT, YACEP, has been practicing yoga for almost 30 years and travels around the country teaching anatomy, physiology, and kinesiology. A hardcore movement nerd and former NCAA athlete, Mary has a master's degree in yoga therapy. Mary lives in the Washington, D.C. area, where she teaches syllabus-based yoga classes, sees clients privately, and trains bodyworkers, fitness professionals, and yoga instructors in movement literacy and therapeutic asana techniques.

The TMJ Handbook

A Therapeutic Guide to Relieving Jaw Tension and Pain with Yoga and Mindfulness

By Cator Shachoy

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

Alleviate TMJ pain with a powerful, integrative mind-body program that draws on yoga, mindfulness, and craniosacral bodywork, and includes 75 instructional movements and audio downloads.

In The TMJ Handbook, Cator Shachoy explains the anatomy and physiology of Temporomandibular Joint Dysfunction (TMD)—what we commonly refer to as “TMJ.” She unpacks the physical, emotional, and energetic reasons why this pain can occur and become so debilitating—including injury, stress and tension, emotional trauma, grief and rage, and hormonal imbalances, among other causes. She then offers a unique and effective approach to reducing TMJ pain that combines yoga, massage, meditation, and craniosacral therapy.

The TMJ Handbook delves into: a definition and explanation of jaw tension and jaw anatomy; headaches, stress, and trauma; conscious healing touch and self-massage and yoga poses and sequences.

Shachoy shares inspiring and instructive stories of patients she has treated and empowers us with the knowledge and skills to help ourselves. This fully illustrated guide has seventy-five instructional movements and audio downloads of exercises and meditations.

About the Author

CATOR SHACHOY is a yogi and mindfulness teacher. She has taught for over twenty years in the U.S., Europe, and South America. She has lived in Buddhist monasteries and spiritual communities in the U.S. and Europe. A Certified International Association of Yoga Therapy (C-IAYT) yoga therapist, Yoga Alliance Continuing Education Provider (YACEP) instructor, Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) teacher, and Visionary Craniosacral Work (VCSW) practitioner, Shachoy completed teacher training at the Iyengar Institute of San Francisco and Kripalu Yoga Center in Lenox, MA. Shachoy has studied and practiced extensively with senior Iyengar teachers Ramanand Patel, Judith Lasater, Elise Miller, Donald Moyer, and Marylou Weprin. Shachoy also offers a range of therapeutic workshops in Buddhism, craniosacral therapy, energy healing, mindfulness, meditation, and yoga. Her work has been published in a variety of publications such as Common Ground, Inquiring Mind, Tricycle, and Turning Wheel.

Yoga by the Numbers

The Sacred and Symbolic in Yoga Philosophy and Practice

By Richard Rosen

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

A fascinating explanation of the significant, often symbolic role that numbers play in yoga philosophy—by beloved yoga teacher and writer Richard Rosen. Numbers play a meaningful role in the philosophy of many spiritual traditions—and yoga is no exception. For example, the number one is the quintessential yoga number, representing “unity” and “wholeness”; number two sometimes stands for co-operative effort, and other times for conflict; and number four is the number of completeness or stability, as it “stands” on “four legs.” There are twelve different names for the mantra OM, each one revealing a different aspect of this root sound. With his distinctive blend of knowledge and humor, Richard Rosen unpacks the fascinating significance that numbers hold in the philosophy and practice of yoga. Stories and practices woven throughout—like the Eka Danta simple meditation exercise, which concentrates on “one pointedness” and is associated with the one tusk of Ganesh—offer readers a hands-on way to explore the importance of numbers in their own practice. Yoga by the Numbers will enlighten and entertain the yogi in your life.

About the Author

RICHARD ROSEN is a beloved and longstanding yoga teacher. He is a graduate of the Iyengar Institute of San Francisco and has been teaching yoga since 1987. He is a contributing editor at Yoga Journal and the president of the board of directors of the Yoga Dana Foundation (www.yogadanafoundation.org), which supports Northern California teachers bringing yoga

Yoga Inversions

Your Guide to Going Upside Down

By Kat Heagberg Rebar

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

An accessible guide to inversions of all kinds, for all skill levels, featuring 85 practices that explore not only the physical side of yoga but also the emotional and spiritual aspects.

Learn to hop into a handstand, headstand with blocks—and even appreciate legs up the wall in new ways with this comprehensive and accessible guide to inversions in yoga. Inversions can offer a range of benefits, including building strength and balance, and this book is unique in that it helps yoga practitioners of any experience level welcome inversions into their practice. Kat Heagberg Rebar offers an easy-to-follow guide with 175 beautiful color photos. For each pose, Kat offers accessible adaptations, challenging variations, and everything in between. She also shares options to prepare safely and practices to build strength.

In addition to teaching the physical practice of inversions, Rebar addresses the mental, emotional, and spiritual aspects of this often-challenging practice. The book debunks common myths and explores topics like how we relate to fear, how we work with challenges, and how we embrace playfulness and humor as we learn. Yoga Inversions offers a progressive, biomechanically sound, body-positive, step-by-step approach to anyone who wants to try being upside down and includes: Downward dog variations; prop suggestions to customize your downward dog; Dolphin pose: finding a hand position that works for you; handstand preps and drills; hopping into handstand; jumping into handstand; handstand against the wall; handstand press drills; and more.

About the Author

KAT HEAGBERG REBAR (eRYT-500) (she/her/they/them) has been teaching yoga since 2005. Kat is the Department Chair of Yoga Studies at Pacific College of Health and Science and the former editor-in-chief of Yoga International. She's the co-author of Yoga Where You Are with Dianne Bondy (Shambhala, 2020). Kat has training in many different yoga schools and styles including alignment-based traditions, vinyasa yoga, and prenatal and postpartum practices. Kat also spent several years living, working, and teaching at a yoga ashram where, in addition to asana, she studied Sanskrit, Ayurveda, Tantric and Classical yoga philosophy, and yogic meditation.

The Yoga of Parenting

Ten Yoga-Based Practices to Help You Stay Grounded, Connect with Your Kids, and Be Kind to Yourself

By Sarah Ezrin; foreword by Jennifer Pastiloff

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

Bring the wisdom of yoga into your parenting journey with 34 practices to find more presence, patience, and acceptance—with your child and with yourself.

"I can say without a doubt that the most advanced yoga I've ever done is raising a child," writes Sarah Ezrin. While many people think of yoga as poses on a mat, The Yoga of Parenting supports people in bringing the spiritual principles of yoga into their lives—particularly their families. Ezrin, a longtime yoga teacher, supports readers and practitioners in slowing down, becoming present with our children and ourselves, and acting with more compassion. Each chapter highlights a yogic posture and theme and explores how it relates to parenting, including presence, boundaries, balance, and nonattachment. Chapters include prompts such as intention setting, breathwork, and journaling. Ezrin also features the stories and insights of a wide range of yoga practitioner parents whose experiences include single parenting, grandparenting, and passing on intergenerational yoga traditions.

In addition to the opening posture, each chapter includes:

- "Breath Breaks" invitations to mindfully breathe
- "On the Mat" practices to show us how we can apply the lessons on our yoga mat in a more general sense
- "Parenting in Practice" offering advice from parents in the US and abroad
- "Off the Mat and Into the Family" fun exercises to help us bring the work off the mat and into our homes

Practicing yoga can help us become kinder to ourselves, more aware of our thoughts and actions, and more present in our lives. What more important sphere to want to become kinder, more aware, and more present than with our families?

About the Author

SARAH EZRIN is a freelance writer, yoga educator, and mama based in the San Francisco Bay Area. Her honesty and innate wisdom make her writing, classes, and social media sources of healing for many people. Sarah is a frequent contributor to Yoga Journal, as well as Yoga International and LA Yoga. She has been interviewed in The Wall Street Journal, Forbes, and Bustle.com, and she has appeared on NBC news. The Art of Budo

The Calligraphy and Paintings of the Martial Arts Masters

By John Stevens

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

Explore this stunning collection of spiritual calligraphy by Japan's greatest martial arts masters—with commentary from Zen art authority and aikido master John Stevens. Beginning with the legendary samurai Miyamoto Musashi, nearly all of the great martial arts masters left a legacy of calligraphy and painting. Their artwork—Zenga and Zensho (“Zen pictures” and “Zen calligraphy”)—was not only an extension of their Zen practice but also reflected their deep spiritual commitment to the budo ethos, the perfection of self through martial arts training. This book presents a concise history of this tradition, with works from such samurai as Musashi, Takuan, Yagyu, Motusgai, Rengetsu, Teshu Deishu, Kano, Morihei, and others. Aikido master John Stevens is an expert on Zen and budo art, and he provides a fascinating introduction to the tradition and biographical details on each of the warrior artists, and brief, illuminating commentary on each piece.

About the Author

JOHN STEVENS is a Zen priest and was a professor of Buddhist Studies and Aikido instructor at Tohoku Fukushi University in Sendai, Japan, where he lived for thirty-five years. He is the author or translator of over forty books on Zen artists, their poetry, painting, and calligraphy, as well as on Aikido, swordsmanship, and other Japanese martial arts traditions. He lives in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The Dhammapada

A Translation of the Buddhist Classic with Annotations

By Gil Fronsdal; foreword by Jack Kornfield

$18.95 - TR

About the Book

The Dhammapada is the most widely read Buddhist scripture in existence, enjoyed by both Buddhists and non-Buddhists. This classic text of teaching verses from the earliest period of Buddhism in India conveys the philosophical and practical foundations of the Buddhist tradition. The text presents two distinct goals for leading a spiritual life: the first is attaining happiness in this life (or in future lives); the second goal is the achievement of spiritual liberation, freedom, absolute peace. Many of the key themes of the verses are presented in dichotomies or pairs, for example, grief and suffering versus joy; developing the mind instead of being negligent about one's mental attitude and conduct; virtuous action versus misconduct; and being truthful versus being deceitful. The purpose of these contrasts is, very simply, to describe the difference between what leads to desirable outcomes and what does not.

For centuries, this text has been studied in its original Pali, the canonical language of Buddhism in Southeast Asia. This fresh new translation from Insight Meditation teacher and Pali translator Gil Fronsdal is both highly readable and scholarly authoritative. With extensive explanatory notes, this edition combines a rigorous attention to detail in bringing forth the original text with the translator's personal knowledge of the Buddhist path. It is the first truly accurate and highly readable translation of this text to be published in English.

About the Author

GIL FRONSDAL has practiced Zen and Insight Meditation since 1975 and has a PhD in Buddhist Studies from Stanford University. He has trained in both the Japanese Soto Zen tradition (San Francisco Zen Center with Suzuki Roshi) and the Insight Meditation school of Theravada Buddhism from Southeast Asia. Gil was trained as a Vipassana teacher by Jack Kornfield and is part of the Vipassana teachers' collective at Spirit Rock Meditation Center. He was ordained as a Soto Zen priest at the San Francisco Zen Center, and in 1995 received Dharma Transmission from Mel Weitsman, the abbot of the Berkeley Zen Center. He has been the primary teacher for the Insight Meditation Center, in Redwood City, California, since 1990. He is a husband and father of two boys.

Reviews

"At last a translation of the Dhammapada that combines academic precision in the translation of Pali terms, literary sensitivity to phrasing and meter, and a heartfelt commitment to Buddhist practice. Gil Fronsdal's version of this classic text will set a new standard for scholars and practitioners alike."—Stephen Batchelor, author of Buddhism without Beliefs and Living with the Devil

Enlightenment Is an Accident

Ancient Wisdom and Simple Practices to Make You Accident Prone

By Tim Burkett; Edited by Wanda Isle

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

A warm-hearted guide to Buddhist practice for those ready to contend with the reality that enlightenment—the realization of non-self—can't be achieved by the self.

A well-known spiritual saying goes, “Enlightenment is an accident. But we can make ourselves more accident-prone.” As authentic American Zen takes shape, enlightenment continues to be misunderstood as a project to be completed, a goal to be achieved, or a prize to be awarded. Tim Burkett's new book unhooks enlightenment from the hot air balloon of ego and brings it back down to earth. Drawing on stories of his first teacher, the Zen master Shunryu Suzuki (author of Zen Mind, Beginner's Mind), and Burkett's decades of practice and teaching, he reveals how to live in the world with a deep joy that comes from embracing the work and play of this very moment. With the wisdom and humor of a seasoned practitioner familiar with all manners of eccentric fixations and silly dead-ends, he offers views and practices we can use to support the paradoxical process of letting enlightenment happen on its own.

About the Author

TIM BURKETT began practicing Zen Buddhism in San Francisco in 1964 with renowned teacher Shunryu Suzuki. He is the former CEO of the largest nonprofit organization in Minnesota for individuals with mental illness and served as guiding teacher of Minnesota Zen Meditation Center from 2004 to 2021. He is a psychologist, a Zen Buddhist priest, and the author of Nothing Holy About It and Zen in the Age of Anxiety. He and his wife, Linda, have two grown children and two grandchildren.

A Fire Runs through All Things

Zen Koans for Facing the Climate Crisis

By Susan Murphy

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

At a time of climate emergency, Zen koans show us how crisis itself can reveal the regenerative openness of life, mind, and being.

Zen koans are a tradition of holistic inquiry based on “encounter stories” from East Asia’s most radical Buddhist tradition. Turning this form of inquiry toward the climate crisis, Susan Murphy contends that koans can help us enter the mind of not-knowing from which acceptance and possibility freely emerge. Koans reveal intimate, mythic, artful, playful, provocative, humorous, and fierce ways to engage the work of protecting and healing our world.

The koans point firstly at ourselves—at the very nature of “self.” Until we hold “self” as a live question rather than its own unquestioned answer, we’re stuck looking on from the “outside,” hoping to engineer change upon a problem called “climate crisis,” all the time oblivious to the fact that we’re swimming in a reality with no outside to it, an ocean of transformative energy. Do we dare relinquish our wish for absolute control and fearlessly surf the intensity of our feelings about the suffering earth?

In addition to her use of dozens of traditional and new koans, Murphy illuminates the little-known Zen resonance with the oldest continuous body of indigenous wisdom on earth, summed up in the subtle Australian Aboriginal word Country. Murphy draws from her study and coteaching with Dulumunmun, Uncle Max Harrison, a distinguished Yuin Elder, to show how this millennia-deep taproot of intelligence confirms the aliveness of the earth and the kinship of all beings.

About the Author

SUSAN MURPHY is an Australian Zen teacher whose passionate feeling of kinship with the natural world began during her early childhood years living near the Great Barrier Reef and the Gondwanaland rainforest. A successful filmmaker, radio producer, and writer, she received dharma transmission from Ross Bolleter and John Tarrant in 2001. She leads regular retreats around Australia and teaches an Australia-wide sangha that extends internationally online. She is the author of Upside-Down Zen; Minding the Earth, Mending the World; and Red Thread Zen.

Happiness Is Overrated

Simple Lessons on Finding Meaning in Each Moment

By Cuong Lu

$17.95 - TR

About the Book

Stop chasing happiness and reconnect to the meaning of each moment with this poignant guide, told through vignettes of life growing up as a Buddhist monk under the spiritual leader Thich Nhat Han.

We spend so much time in pursuit of happiness—trying to purchase it, experience it, meditate our way toward it—but happiness is elusive and doesn't last. According to the teachings of the Buddha, this is not a problem! As Cuong Lu writes, "suffering is not a problem to be solved. It is a truth to be recognized." Happiness Is Overrated invites us to look deeply at the truths in our lives—not glossing over or denying our suffering—and focus on the meaning and value already within us. Each chapter shares a lesson drawn from Buddhist psychology and the Four Noble Truths, which are accessible to all readers. Short practices at the end of each of the 30 short chapters help readers apply the teachings on their own. Happiness Is Overrated helps readers get in touch with their true selves and their true minds through meditation and mindfulness practices that include paying attention to the breath, considering our minds, connecting with our hearts, interconnectedness with others, and more.

About the Author

CUONG LU, Buddhist teacher, scholar, and writer, was ordained a monk at Plum Village in France under the guidance of Thich Nhat Hanh. In 2000, he was recognized as a teacher in the Lieu Quan line of the Linji School of Zen Buddhism. Cuong is the founder of Mind Only School, leads retreats, and gives Dharma talks in Europe, the U.S., and Asia. He is the author of The Buddha in Jail: Restoring Lives, Finding Hope and Freedom (OR Books/Counterpoint Press) and Wait: A Love Letter to Those in Despair (Shambhala Publications).

Illumination

A Guide to the Buddhist Method of No-Method

By Rebecca Li

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

A modern guide to the transformative practice of silent illumination from Chan Buddhist teacher Rebecca Li.

Silent illumination, a way of penetrating the mind through curious inquiry, is an especially potent, accessible, and portable meditation practice perfectly suited for a time when there is so much fear, upheaval, and sorrow in our world. It is a method of reconnecting with our true nature, which encompasses all that exists and where suffering cannot touch us. The practice of silent illumination is simple, allowing each moment to be experienced as it is in order to manifest our innate wisdom and natural capacity for compassion. It can be integrated into all aspects of daily life and is meaningful for secular and Buddhist audiences, new and seasoned meditators alike.

After guiding readers through the history and practice of silent illumination, Rebecca Li shows us how we can recognize and unlearn our “modes of operation”—habits of mind that get in the way of being fully present and engaged with life. Cultivating clarity on the empty nature of these habits offers us a way to unlearn and free ourselves from unhelpful modes such as harshness to self, perfectionism, quietism, striving for spiritual attainment, and more. Illumination offers stories and real-life examples, references to classic Buddhist texts, and insights from Chan Master Sheng Yen to guide readers as they practice silent illumination not just on their cushions, but throughout their lives.

About the Author

REBECCA LI, PhD, is a meditation and Dharma teacher in the lineage of Chan Master Sheng Yen and founder and guiding teacher of Chan Dharma Community. She gives Dharma talks and leads Chan retreats in North America and Europe. She is also a sociology professor and lives with her husband in New Jersey. Her talks, writings, and schedule can be found at rebeccali.org.

In a Moment, in a Breath

55 Meditations to Cultivate a Courageous Heart

By Roshi Joan Halifax

$24.95 - Non-Traditional

About the Book

A curated collection of 55 short meditations from Zen priest Joan Halifax, packaged in a beautiful deck with Joan's art to help you tune in, cultivate compassion, and still the mind in just a moment's notice.

These short potent meditative practices and contemplations are the perfect elixir for today's hectic, turbulent world. Collected in a practical card deck format, the 55 meditations allow you to tune in to your natural wisdom, even amid great difficulties. The cards are inspired by the elements—Earth/Grounding, Water/Living by Vow, Fire/Meeting the Boundless Heart, Air/Being with Dying, and Space/Coming Home to Wisdom. Draw a card each week for just over a year of guided practice or shuffle the deck to draw a mini-meditation as needed. Meditations like “Anchoring the Mind,” “Nourishing Courage,” “Transforming Grief,” and “Letting Go of Fear” help cultivate compassion, mindfulness, and calmness, and will benefit both seasoned meditators and beginners alike. The deck will be accompanied by a short accordion booklet, with introductory material from the author providing context and instructions for using the deck, and the cards are paired with stunning full-color calligraphy paintings by the author. The package is a cigar-style box with a magnetic closure.

Into the Mirror

A Buddhist Journey through Mind, Matter, and the Nature of Reality

By Andy Karr; foreword by Matthieu Ricard
$21.95 - TR

About the Book

Into the Mirror offers powerful methods to investigate the role of our minds in constructing experience through a history of Indian Buddhism and Western philosophy.

Into the Mirror is an integrative presentation of the Mahayana Buddhist view of the nature of reality, combining insights from modern Western philosophy, science, and physics to guide the reader on an experiential journey. Andy Karr invites the reader to engage in complex Buddhist ideas with guided contemplations, such as how to bring awareness to the textures of thoughts and feelings that come and go in meditation practice, how to investigate the way we impute qualities onto the objects we crave, and how to generate compassion. Karr guides the reader to investigate the mind's role in creating experiences of the external world. The book consists of three parts. The first is a highly accessible summary of the Buddhist path to the cessation of suffering, presenting foundational concepts such as the Four Noble Truths, the notion of enlightenment, and the practice of meditation. The second part offers methods for deconstructing our presumptions about the relationship between consciousness and matter, incorporating modern philosophy and science into a traditional Buddhist presentation of the true nature of mind. Part three then explores the progressive stages of insight of the Mahayana tradition, and the Yogacara tradition in particular, as a transformative understanding of ordinary human experience.

About the Author

ANDY KARR is a teacher, author, and photographer who offers profound and penetrating insights into dharma and mind. He trained at the San Francisco Zen Center under Shunryu Suzuki Roshi and under Chögyam Trungpa Rinpoche in Boulder, Colorado. Andy cofounded the first Shambhala Centre in France and taught regularly in Paris and other European Dharma centers for ten years. Andy is the author of Into the Mirror and Contemplating Reality and the coauthor of The Practice of Contemplative Photography. Andy continues to teach meditation, the Mahayana view, and Mahamudra.

Jhāna Consciousness

Buddhist Meditation in the Age of Neuroscience

By Paul Dennison

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

For centuries in Southeast Asia, oral Yogāvacara (yoga practitioner) traditions kept the practice of jhāna meditation alive, but in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, reforms in Buddhism suppressed jhāna in favor of vipassanā, or insight meditation. Traditional methods of jhāna meditation were nearly lost. Related aspects of traditional Southeast Asian Buddhism, such as the use of sacred mantras, amulets, and tattoos, were downplayed. Some began to consider the extraordinary states of consciousness induced by jhāna meditation to be a thing of the past, unattainable in the context of modern life. In Jhāna Consciousness, Paul Dennison explores these aspects of Buddhism from a variety of angles, makes a compelling case for their vital importance to the Buddhist path, and demonstrates that modern laypeople can indeed access these wondrous states of consciousness. Having studied with one of the first Thai meditation teachers in England, practiced for decades in the UK's Samatha Trust meditation tradition, and published a peer-reviewed study on the effects of jhāna meditation on the brain, Dennison brings a lifetime of scholarly and personal insight to a subject that Westerners are only beginning to understand. Employing traditional Buddhist doctrine, teachings from lesser-known meditation texts such as The Yogāvacara's Manual, and findings from his groundbreaking neuroscience research, Jhāna Consciousness offers a vision rooted in the ancient past yet oriented to our present age.

The Little Book of Zen Healing

Japanese Rituals for Beauty, Harmony, and Love

By Paula Arai; foreword by Pico Iyer

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

Experience the power of embodied mindfulness-based rituals to infuse your life with connection and healing.

How do we make and sustain meaning amidst the messy conditions of daily life? Personalized rituals can help us blossom like lotuses right in the mud of the present. On a pilgrimage she began after her mother's death, author Paula Arai encountered numerous Japanese Buddhists who taught her the remarkable power of ritual to heal—practices you can adapt to your own cultural and personal circumstances. Applying principles of Zen practice, she offers stories and insights that illuminate how to nourish and reap a healing bounty of connection, joy, and compassion. Examples include how to: relate to a late loved one as a “personal Buddha” who supports you; create a home altar to serve as a safe space to be vulnerable, face intense emotions, and experience a depth of warm gratitude that melts fear and anger; engage in daily tasks with attentiveness, intention, and creativity such that they become opportunities for body-mind integration; develop family rituals to celebrate relationship and mark transition; approach illness and grief with a purposeful sense of connection to life-and-death in its wholeness. Like Marie Kondo's Shinto principles for decluttering, Paula Arai uses rituals influenced by Japanese Zen for personal and relation nourishment and spiritual healing.

Living Kindness

Metta Practice for the Whole of Our Lives

By Kevin Griffin

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

A fresh look at the Buddhist principle of metta, or loving-kindness. Dharma teacher Kevin Griffin demonstrates that metta is not just a meditation practice—it's a radical, selfless way of life based in universal love for all beings. In Living Kindness, Kevin Griffin guides us through the stories of the Pali Canon of Buddhism to deepen our understanding of the “brahmaviharas,” or practices of love, compassion, joy, and equanimity. Appealing to the direct words of the Buddha, Griffin challenges us to consider that these practices are not just for developing positive states on the meditation cushion—they're important aspects of living in community and caring for our world. Ultimately, to live kindness is to express the deepest Buddhist wisdom of selflessness and non-clinging. Written in a personal and intimate tone, Living Kindness reads like words from one friend on the spiritual path to another. By unpacking the rich stories of the Pali Canon that often go underappreciated, Griffin transports us to the time of the Buddha, reveals the contemporary relevance of his teachings, and underscores the human dimension of what can seem like lofty philosophy. With guided meditation practices on themes such as forgiveness, the preciousness of human birth, managing emotional attachment, and relating to the “Greed, Hatred, and Delusion Report” of news media, Living Kindness will appeal not only to Buddhist practitioners seeking traditional teachings, but to anyone who wants to grow in their capacity to love unconditionally in a troubled world.

Living Theravada

Demystifying the People, Places, and Practices of a Buddhist Tradition

By Brooke Schedneck

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

An illuminating introduction to the contemporary world of Theravada Buddhism and its rich culture and practices in modern mainland Southeast Asia.

Theravada translates as “the way of the Elders,” indicating that this Buddhist tradition considers itself to be the most authoritative and pure. Tracing all the way back to the time of the Buddha, Theravada Buddhism is distinguished by canonical literature preserved in the Pali language, beliefs, and practices—and this literature is often specialized and academic in tone. By contrast, this book will serve as a foundational and accessible resource on Theravada Buddhism and the contemporary, lived world of its enduring tradition.

Brooke Schedneck has done extensive research on topics such as religions of Southeast Asia, contemporary Buddhism, gender in Asian religions, and religious tourism. Narrowing in on topics such as temples, monastic lives, lay Buddhists, meditation, and Buddhist objects, Schedneck highlights the thriving diversity of Theravada Buddhists today. Exploring Theravada as a lived religion reveals how people apply various expressions in everyday life. She presents to readers the most important practices and beliefs of Theravada Buddhists, illustrated through contemporary debates about what represents proper Theravada practice within Cambodia, Myanmar, Laos, and Thailand in the twenty-first century. Additionally, practical information is provided in appendices about what temples and practice centers readers can visit as well as a temple etiquette guide offering tips for being a respectful visitor. While academics will benefit from and appreciate this overview, the writing offers a refreshing introduction to a complex tradition for readers new to the subject.

About the Author

DR. BROOKE SCHEDNECK teaches courses on Buddhism and Asian religions at Rhodes College and leads their Maymester in Thailand. She holds a BA in religious studies from Boston University, an MTS in world religions from Harvard Divinity School, and a PhD in Asian religions from Arizona State University. Luminous Darkness

An Engaged Buddhist Approach to Embracing the Unknown

By Deborah Eden Tull

$18.95 - TR

About the Book

A resonant call to explore the darkness in life—difficult emotions like grief, fear, and prejudice—through teachings, meditations, and mindful inquiry that provide us with a powerful path to healing. Welcoming darkness with curiosity, rather than fear or judgment, enables us to access our innate capacity for compassion and collective healing. Dharma teacher, shaman, and deep ecologist Deborah Eden Tull addresses the spiritual, ecological, psychological, and interpersonal ramifications of our bias towards light. Tull shows us how the labeling of darkness as “negative” becomes a collective excuse to justify avoiding everything that makes us uncomfortable: racism, spiritual bypass, environmental destruction. We can only find the radical path to wholeness by learning to embrace the interplay of both darkness and light.

About the Author

DEBORAH EDEN TULL, founder of Mindful Living Revolution, is a Zen meditation and engaged mindfulness teacher, author, activist, deep ecologist, and sustainability educator. Eden spent seven years training as a Buddhist monk and has been teaching dharma for 20 years. Her work has been in The Los Angeles Times, Tricycle, GOOP, and The Ecologist. Eden also teaches The Work That Reconnects created by Joanna Macy, and for UCLA's Mindful Awareness Research Center. Eden offers retreats and online courses internationally. She is the author of Relational Mindfulness (Wisdom 2018) and The Natural Kitchen (Process 2008).

Meditations of the Pali Tradition

Illuminating Buddhist Doctrine, History, and Practice

By L. S. Cousins; Edited by Sarah Shaw
$24.95 - TR

About the Book

A groundbreaking and detailed presentation of the rich system of meditation traditions that have come to us through the Pali tradition of Buddhism. Meditations of the Pali Tradition, from consummate scholar of Pali Buddhism L. S. Cousins, explores the history of meditation practice in early or Pali Buddhism, which was established in various parts of South and Central Asia from the time of the Buddha and developed until at least the fourteenth century CE. Ranging in discussion of jhana (absorption) meditation in ancient India to the Buddhist practice centers of the Silk Road to the vipassana (insight) practices of our modern world, this rigorous and insightful work of scholarship sheds new light on our understanding of the practices that are today associated with the Theravada school of Buddhism and the insight meditation movement. Cousins demonstrates that there is much more to Buddhist meditation than mindfulness alone—concentration and joy, for example, are equally important.

About the Author

L. S. COUSINS (1942–2015) was one of the world’s foremost experts on Pali Buddhism. He taught at Manchester University and the University of Oxford, and was a founding member of the Samatha Trust, an organization in the UK dedicated to teaching Buddhist samatha meditation.

Reviews

“An unprecedented exploration of meditation experience as described in the Pali canon, commentaries, and abhidhamma—as well as lesser-known sources—this study reflects Cousins’s nuanced sensitivity as a lifelong practitioner and his wealth of textual expertise. It is brought lovingly to light through Sarah Shaw’s careful curation, additional supporting materials, and account of how it reflects Cousins’s life.”—Kate Crosby, author of Esoteric Theravada

“This is a carefully and comprehensively written work. Cousins’s treatment and defense of traditional calm (jhāna) meditation catches my eye most, as insight (vipassanā) meditations are so much more popular now around the world. This book, by showing the whole historical picture, makes an important addition to the scholarship on meditation.”—Sayadaw Dr. Khammai Dhammasami, president of the International Association of Buddhist Universities.

Opening to Oneness

A Practical and Philosophical Guide to the Zen Precepts

By Nancy Mujo Baker

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

Stop trying to become “better” by suppressing or hiding parts of yourself, and learn what it means to be fully human with this accessible guide to the core ethical teachings of Zen Buddhism. In Opening to Oneness, Zen teacher Nancy Baker offers a detailed path of practice for Zen students planning to take the precepts and for anyone, Buddhist or non-Buddhist, interested in deepening their personal study of ethical living. She reveals that there are three levels of each precept: a literal level (don’t kill, not even a bug), a relative level that takes moral ambiguity into account (what if it’s a malaria-spreading mosquito?), and an ultimate level—the paradoxical level of nonduality, in which the precepts are naturally expressed from a state of oneness. Full of nuance, skepticism, intelligence, and compassion, ten chapters addressing the grave precepts approach them mostly from the literal and relative levels, including instructions for how to practice these precepts individually and in pairs or groups. The next part of the book takes a deep dive into looking at the precepts from the ultimate perspective, largely through an exploration of the precept writings of Dogen, the thirteenth-century religious genius who founded the Soto Zen school. At once comprehensive and innovative, Opening to Oneness will take its place alongside classics like The Mind of Clover, The Heart of Being, and Being Upright as a cherished guide to Zen Buddhist ethics.

About the Author

NANCY BAKER is a Zen teacher in the White Plum Sangha, running the No Traces Zendo online and teaching retreats. A Dharma successor to Bernie Glassman, she is among the first fully empowered lay Soto Zen teachers. She is Professor Emerita of Philosophy at Sarah Lawrence College, where she taught for more than forty years. She lives in New York City.

The Path to Peace

A Buddhist Guide to Cultivating Loving-Kindness

By Ayya Khema

Edited by Leigh Brasington

$16.95 - TR

About the Book

Beloved Buddhist nun Ayya Khema expertly guides the reader through ten meditations on generating loving-kindness and cultivating the fifteen wholesome qualities necessary for igniting compassion and boundless love. Having escaped Nazi Germany in 1938, Ayya Khema has singularly profound perspective on creating peace, unconditional love, and compassion. She gently teaches that inner peace is not necessarily natural or innate. Instead, peace should be considered a skill that needs intentional practice—every day. Peace is the sum of many parts, namely the fifteen wholesome qualities the Buddha himself noted in the Metta Sutta, including usefulness, mildness, humility, contentment, receptivity, and others. Ayya Khema expertly guides us through each individual condition, using her trademark humor and personal narrative, to help each reader shape their own path to self-transformation. Edited by her student and retreat leader, Leigh Brasington, this book is a complete course in practical ways to calm and brighten our minds.

About the Author

AYYA KHEMA was born to a Jewish family in Berlin in 1923. Escaping Germany in 1938, she went on to study Buddhism and meditation all over world, including the San Francisco Zen Center. In 1979, she was ordained a Theravadin Buddhist nun, receiving the name Khema, meaning “safety and security” (Ayya means “sister”). Ayya Khema established a forest monastery near Sidney, Australia; a training center for nuns in Colombo, Sri Lanka; and Buddha-Haus, a meditation center in the Allgäu, Germany. Among her books are When the Iron Eagle Flies; Being Nobody, Going Nowhere; Who Is My Self?; and an autobiography, I Give You My Life.

LEIGH BRASINGTON, author of Right Concentration, studied the jhanas with the late Ven. Ayya Khema, who authorized him to teach retreats on the jhanas. He was also empowered to teach by Jack Kornfield. He teaches numerous jhana retreats throughout the year, at venues that include Cloud Mountain, Barre Center for Buddhist Studies, Gaia House, Vallecitos, and Southern Dharma.

Talking Zen

Reflections on Mind, Myth, and the Magic of Life

By Alan Watts

Edited by Mark Watts

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

Insightful and entertaining essays spanning 40 years of lectures by Alan Watts on Zen, Taoism, psychedelics, and comparative philosophy. Alan Watts's essays and talks range widely through psychology, art, religion, and politics, but always come home to the Zen core. For those familiar with Alan Watts's style of presentation, the wonderful, memorable, and prophetic style of his voice is captured in this volume. Talking Zen puts on display Watts's ability to explore the very subtle philosophies, those common across traditions and those unique to Zen, in ordinary and accessible language. These lectures paved the way for the rise of Zen in the West.

That Is Not Your Mind!

Zen Reflections on the Surangama Sutra

By Robert Rosenbaum

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

Viewed through the lens of psychology and neuroscience, a classic Zen sutra becomes a springboard for exploring sensory experiences and realizing freedom. What does it mean to be liberated through one's sensory life? In That Is Not Your Mind! Zen teacher Robert Rosenbaum explores this question by taking readers on a step-by-step journey through the Surangama Sutra. This Chinese Mahayana sutra is known for its emphasis on practicing with the senses (sight, sound, taste, smell, touch, and the Buddhist "sixth sense" of mind or cognition), as well as its teachings on the necessity of basic ethical commitments, like not killing or stealing, to support the development of one's meditation practice and insight. Rosenbaum interweaves passages from the sutra with contemporary insights from neuroscience and psychology, illustrating the usefulness of the text with anecdotes from his life and his forty years of teaching experience. In addition to learning about a sutra that played an important role in the creation of Chinese Chan and Japanese Zen Buddhism, readers are guided through meditations and other practices derived from the sutra's teachings, such as hearing meditations (awareness of sound, awareness of silence, turning hearing inwards) and centering meditations (basic centering as well as centering on compassion). "One of the most difficult aspects of Buddhist practice is wrapping our minds around how every moment is both a deceptive seeming and also a true gateway to awakening," writes Rosenbaum. "Nothing is hidden, but there is an infinite field we cannot see."

Throw Yourself into the House of Buddha

The Life and Zen Teachings of Tengen Harada Roshi

By Tengen Harada; translated by Belenda Attaway Yamakawa; edited by Kogen Czarnick; afterword by Bodhin Kjolhede
$19.95 - TR

About the Book

From narrowly surviving World War II through enduring the profound rigors of traditional Zen training, Tengen Harada's fascinating life story and teachings present a classic picture of the Buddhist journey from suffering to realization.

On August 15, 1945, at the age of twenty, Tengen Harada stood on an airfield and prepared to board the airplane on which he would undertake a suicide mission for his country. Only the voice of Emperor Hirohito on the radio—never before heard by the Japanese public—announcing Japan's surrender saved his life. After returning from a Soviet POW camp in 1946, overcome with questions about the meaning of human life and suffering, Harada sought out the counsel of a Zen master. He thus embarked on the path of awakening and liberation to which he would commit the rest of his life, eventually teaching thousands of people from around the world.

Throw Yourself into the House of Buddha includes Tengen Roshi's life story in his own words, as well as twenty-four teachings conveying the heart of his Zen understanding. Each chapter, paired with a beautiful calligraphy by the master, conveys his direct, uncompromising, yet encouraging message about the possibility of Zen realization.

"Wake up," writes Harada, "and you can say for yourself, 'The sun is my eye, the wind my breath, all of space my heart, the mountain and ocean my body. The sun shining brightly, vividly, is the eye of my life. The vastness of the sky is my heart.' Who is the master of this boundless heart? No one else but you. This is your reality. Heaven and earth—same root, all things—one body."

About the Author

Born in Niigata Prefecture, Japan, in 1924, TANGEN HARADA trained as a kamikaze pilot during the Second World War and came within hours of losing his life. In the aftermath of this and other wartime traumas, he turned to intensive monastic Zen practice to make sense of the war and his life. Following a series of realization experiences, he became abbot of Bukkoku-ji temple, where he practiced and taught for the next sixty years. Never deviating from a strict, traditional approach to the practice, he accepted all manner of students—monastic and lay, Japanese and foreign, women and men—and influenced Zen teachers around the world. "He was a simple, kind, happy man, who lived his teaching," notes one eulogy of Harada, who passed away in 2018.

Through Forests of Every Color

Awakening with Koans

By Joan Sutherland

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

An intimate spiritual and literary journey exploring how Zen koans make us permeable to the joys and the anguish of this life—and to the primordial mystery we glimpse behind the veil of the everyday. In Through Forests of Every Color, renowned Zen teacher Joan Sutherland reimagines the koan tradition with allegiance to the root spirit of the koans and to their profound potential for vivifying, subverting, and sanctifying our lives. Her decades of practicing with koans and of translating them from classical Chinese imbues this text with a warm familiarity, an ease still suffused with awe. Interlinked essays on “koans as art,” “keeping company with koans,” and “walking the koan way” intersperse with beautifully translated renditions of dozens of traditional Zen koans. Sutherland also shares innovative koans culled from Western literature, as well as teachings on how to create idiosyncratic koans or “turning words” from the circumstances of one’s own life.

About the Author

JOAN SUTHERLAND, Roshi, is a teacher in the koan tradition and the first woman teacher in her lineage in the Americas. She is one of the founders of the Pacific Zen School, an innovative contemporary koan school that also includes Pacific Zen Institute. Sutherland taught in Santa Fe, New Mexico, through Awakened Life, the community that gathered around her teachings there. She is also the founding teacher of The Open Source, a network of communities in New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, and California. In 2014 she retired from working directly with students and now focuses on Cloud Dragon: The Joan Sutherland Dharma Works. She is the author of Vimalakirti and the Awakened Heart, and her writing has appeared regularly in Lion’s Roar and Buddhadharma magazines.

Reviews

“Joan Sutherland’s Koan Salon in Santa Fe was something new, an innovation in a very old tradition that loved and respected both the ancestors and the participants. The field in that room was alive and expansive. Something enlightening was going on. I’m excited that this book will introduce many more people to her work.” —Natalie Goldberg, author of Writing Down the Bones

“A clearer path or a better guide would be hard to find. Of course, you still won’t be getting out of this forest alive.” —Red Pine, author of Three Zen Sutras

Treasury of the Eye of True Teaching

Classic Stories, Discourses, and Poems of the Chan Tradition

By Dahui

Translated by Thomas Cleary

$24.95 - TR

About the Book

Thomas Cleary, one of America's most beloved translators of Buddhist texts, brings twelfth century Chan master Dahui's monumental compilation of teachings to life for the first time in English. Treasury of the Eye of True Teaching (Zhengfayanzang) stands as among the greatest classics of Chan (Chinese Zen) Buddhism, combining speeches, stories, dialogues, poems, and commentaries that the influential master Dahui (1089–1163) extracted from Chan lore. Compiled by Dahui's students during Song Dynasty China, this work is replete with the enigmatic, paradoxical wisdom for which Zen Buddhism is so well known. Central to this collection is the notion of "great doubt" in matters of language, conceptual thinking, and how we conceive of our existence. By working with great doubt through koan introspection and other meditative practices, a practitioner is able to push themselves to the limits of ideas and concepts until a breakthrough to enlightenment is achieved. In the words of Dahui, "Within great doubt there necessarily exists great enlightenment." A fascinating compendium of literary and spiritual puzzles, Treasury of the Eye of True Teaching will challenge and inspire readers to work with great doubt themselves and to discover their inborn potential for enlightenment. Masterfully translated by one of America's foremost translators of Chinese classics into English, it is a captivating window into the literary world of Chinese Zen and essential reading for students of all Zen schools today.

About the Author

THOMAS CLEARY (1949–2021) is one of the most celebrated translators of Asian spiritual classics into English. Holder of a PhD in East Asian Languages and Civilizations from Harvard University and a JD from the University of California, Berkeley, Boalt Hall School of Law, he is the translator of over fifty volumes of Buddhist, Taoist, Confucian, and Islamic texts from Sanskrit, Chinese, Japanese, Pali, and Arabic.

Turning Words

Transformative Encounters with Buddhist Teachers

By Hozan Alan Senauke

$18.95 - TR

About the Book

A poignant portrait of spiritual relationships in the diverse worlds of American and global Buddhism, through stories of over 30 luminaries including His Holiness the Dalai Lama, Thich Nhat Hanh, Joan Halifax, Joanna Macy, and more.

Across more than thirty-five years of practice in Zen and socially engaged Buddhism, Alan Senauke has had a range of remarkable encounters with Buddhist teachers and spiritual friends. Here he collects stories of moments in which someone's words, actions, or presence opened his mind and heart in a new way. Touching on meditation, insight, social action, race, family, community, and more, these vignettes build like a chorus and convey lessons such as taking one's work seriously without taking oneself seriously, letting things fall apart, and using oneself up on behalf of others. The book's stories and accompanying photographs feature many of the greatest Zen teachers, engaged Buddhists, and global Buddhist leaders of our day, including Robert Aitken, Bernie Glassman, Shodo Harada, Dainin Katagiri, Jarvis Masters, Ven. Sheng Yen, Sulak Sivaraksa, and many more—with a special section devoted to the teachings of Senauke's primary teacher, Sojun Mel Weitsman.

About the Author

ALAN SENAUCHE, the abbot of the Berkeley Zen Center, is well-known for his decades-long work in engaged Buddhism. Having served with a number of national and international service organizations, he founded and runs the Clear View Project, a nonprofit organization that has worked extensively on humanitarian projects in Myanmar, Bangladesh, and India. Alan is the author of Heirs to Ambedkar, The Bodhisattva's Embrace, and other books. Also a musician, he has recorded the Buddhist folk albums Everything Is Broken and Wooden Man.

Until Nirvana's Time

Buddhist Songs from Cambodia

Translated and edited by Trent Walker
$21.95 - TR

About the Book

A collection of forty-five evocative ritual Dharma songs from seventeenth- to twentieth-century Cambodia, along with essays contextualizing the poems in terms of Cambodian Buddhist doctrine, the ritual lives of practitioners, and their melodic structure. Until Nirvana's Time consists of forty-five poems of Dharma songs from largely anonymous authors translated and introduced by Trent Walker. These songs have never appeared in English translation—many of them have never been published in Khmer either—and they come from oral traditions or were previously only available in personal collections as etchings on palm leaves or handmade bark-paper manuscripts. Because of the way the complex melodies work, one song can take hours to sing and they are, as Walker states, “often recited at night, traditionally in dusk-to-dawn rites of healing, mourning, dedication, and consecration.” A link to recordings of the songs in English and Khmer accompanies the book. The poems are organized into four sections, each with their own short and accessible introduction by Walker, a vocal performer of these songs who also completed his dissertation on this topic at the University of California-Berkeley. The book also includes four essays on these poems by the translator. The essays cover cosmology and doctrine of Cambodian Buddhism, how the poems are chanted as daily prayers and public rituals, the oral and written transmission of the texts, and the structure of the way the songs are to be chanted. These songs have been recorded in both the original and in English translation, truly bringing these forty-five songs to life. The poems are sung by several highly skilled vocalists trained in this particular tradition and lineage, including the translator. Many of these performances can be heard on stirringandstilling.org and a selection will also be available on Shambhala's website to accompany the book release.

About the Author

TRENT WALKER researches and teaches about Southeast Asian Buddhism, literature, and music. Currently a postdoctoral fellow at Stanford's Ho Center for Buddhist Studies and a lecturer in the Religious Studies department, he works on palm-leaf and bark-paper manuscripts in Khmer, Thai, and Tham scripts as well as a variety of printed and oral texts in Pali, Cambodian, Siamese, Lanna, Lao, Vietnamese, and other languages.

The Way of Ch'an

Essential Texts of the Original Tradition

By David Hinton

$27.95 - TR

About the Book

This sweeping collection of new translations paints a brilliant picture of the development of Ch'an (Zen) Buddhism, China's most radical philosophical and meditative tradition.

In this landmark anthology of some two dozen translations, celebrated translator David Hinton shows how Ch'an (Japanese: Zen)—too long considered a perplexing school of Chinese Buddhism—was in truth a Buddhist-inflected form of Taoism, China's native system of spiritual philosophy. The texts in The Way of Ch'an build from seminal Taoism through the "Dark-Enigma Learning" literature and on to the most important pieces from all stages of the classical Ch'an tradition. Guided by Hinton's accessible introductions, readers will encounter texts and authors including: I Ching (c. 12th century BCE); Lao Tzu (c. 6th century BCE); Bodhidharma (active c. 500–550 CE); Sixth Patriarch Prajna-Able (Hui Neng, 638–713); Cold Mountain (Han Shan: c. 8th–9th centuries); Yellow-Bitterroot Mountain (Huang Po, d. 850); Blue-Cliff Record (c. 1040). Through this steadily deepening and transformative reading experience, readers will see the profound and intricate connections between native Chinese philosophy, Taoism, and Ch'an. Contemporary Zen students and practitioners will never see their tradition in the same way again.

About the Author

DAVID HINTON has published numerous books of poetry and essays and many translations of ancient Chinese poetry and philosophy—all informed by an abiding interest in deep ecological thinking. This widely acclaimed work has earned Hinton a Guggenheim Fellowship, numerous fellowships from NEA and NEH, and both of the major awards given for poetry translation in the United States: the Landon Translation Award (Academy of American Poets) and the PEN American Translation Award. Most recently, Hinton received a lifetime achievement award by the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

The Zen Way of Recovery

An Illuminated Path Out of the Darkness of Addiction

By Laura Burges

$21.95 - TR

About the Book

An accessible, compassionate guide to Buddhist principles and practices that can help support recovery from addictions and addictive behaviors—written by an experienced Zen lay teacher with 35 years of sobriety.

For anyone struggling with addiction, Buddhism offers powerful, grounding wisdom and tools to help support recovery. In The Zen Way of Recovery, Laura Burges shares her experience as a dedicated Zen practitioner who came to terms with her own addiction to alcohol and found support for her recovery. Through the lens of Buddhist teachings, Burges offers tools and practices which, together with the help of recovery programs, can offer a road to sobriety. Burges is an experienced and compassionate guide, and her message is resonant for people with any type of addictive behavior—and for people who aren't necessarily familiar with Buddhism. Her teachings are drawn from the Buddha's life and teachings (specifically the Eight Awarenesses of the Awakened Being and the Six Paramitas), and the wisdom of Japanese Buddhist priest Dogen Zenji, the founder of the Soto school of Zen, among others.

Examples of reflections and journaling prompts include: Do you still hear the critical, contemptuous, sarcastic voice of a parent or partner in your own head? Do you sometimes hear yourself mirroring this negative voice with others? What were the models of relationship that you grew up with? What are ways that you can cultivate more patience? Check in with yourself to see if tiredness, hunger, loneliness, or anger is affecting your thinking in the moment.

About the Author

Awakening Dignity

A Guide to Living a Life of Deep Fulfillment

By Phakchok Rinpoche and Sophie Wu
$21.95 - TR

About the Book

A Buddhist master's guide to cultivating dignity through meditation, in order to live a more meaningful and fulfilling life. The notion of dignity is crucial to questions of how best to live a meaningful and fulfilling life, particularly for people who feel self-doubt and low self-esteem as well as those who can feel trapped by their anxiety, dissatisfaction, or even success. In today's environment, this seems to include most people. So, how can we possess authentic and unshakeable dignity? This book offers a unique and fresh approach to this question by drawing from the Tibetan Buddhist wisdom tradition. According to Buddhism, dignity is an inherent quality of fundamental wholeness and completeness that we all naturally possess. This understanding is based on the idea that our true nature is pure and that our heart is noble. Phakchok Rinpoche shows how knowing that we are whole and complete already, and gaining trust and certainty in that understanding, counteracts the common feeling that we are not enough, that something is missing. Gaining unwavering trust in ourselves protects us from life's ups and downs. With genuine dignity, we are not riddled with uncertainty, anxiety, or self-doubt; rather, we are able to face any circumstance with confidence, clarity, and compassion. Through reflections, examples, and simple meditations, such as embracing adversity and practicing compassion, this guide provides all the tools necessary to fully embody our fundamental dignity.

About the Author

PHAKCHOK RINPOCHE is a new generation Tibetan Buddhist Master. Born in 1981, Rinpoche was recognized as the seventh Phakchok Rinpoche and incarnation of a great teacher and meditation master. Receiving ordination from His Holiness the Dalai Lama, Rinpoche received an education and training in Buddhist philosophy and meditation, studying with some of the most accomplished masters of modern times. Rinpoche travels the world teaching in Buddhist centers, universities, and monasteries.

SOPHIE WU, PhD, is associate professor of history at Agnes Scott College. Trained as a modern Chinese intellectual historian, she teaches Asian history and philosophy, including Buddhism. She has studied and practiced under such masters as Thich Nhat Hanh, Khenchen Palden Sherab Rinpoche, Khenpo Tsewang, Dongyal Rinpoche, and more recently Phakchok Rinpoche. She also serves as a meditation instructor for the Buddhist organization Samye Institute. Her current academic research focuses on Chinese and Tibetan independent films and contemplative education.

The Power of Mind

A Tibetan Monk's Guide to Finding Freedom
in Every Challenge

By Khentrul Lodro T'hayé

Translated by Paloma Lopez Landry

Edited by Paloma Lopez Landry, Ibby Caputo, and Paul Gustafson

$18.95 - TR

About the Book

A modern guide to lojong—ancient Buddhist techniques for transforming all circumstances, including pain, anxiety, and stress, into mental well-being that benefits us and the people around us. The Power of Mind provides the proven path of lojong, or mind training, for changing our experience from the inside out. Regardless of what's happening in our lives, Khentrul Rinpoche teaches that our route to freedom lies in our minds. A thousand years ago, the Indian saint Atisha risked his life to seek out lojong teachings in Indonesia, and then brought them to Tibet, where they flourished and spread to the rest of the world. This book introduces those teachings—the Seven Key Points of Mind Training—which have been passed down from teacher to student for centuries. This wisdom is accessible to everyone—whether Buddhist or not. As Khentrul Rinpoche states, “Peace and happiness can be attained, but not by searching for something in the outside world. They start within us then extend out to the entire globe.”

About the Author

KHENTRUL LODRÖ T'HAYÉ RINPOCHE is a United States-based Tibetan monk and the director of Katog Choling, a Tibetan Cultural Center. He oversees meditation groups across North America and in Australia and South Africa. Before the Covid-19 pandemic, he traveled year-round teaching seminars and leading retreats, and he now holds online retreats for his students around the globe. He is also the abbot of a monastery in Tibet. Khentrul Rinpoche is one of the only monks in the world with three khenpo degrees—equivalent to three PhDs in Buddhist philosophy. Many of his students have nicknamed him “the mind training Khenpo” for his passion for teaching mind training practices.

Reviews

“A deep well of both timeless and practical wisdom, Khentrul Rinpoche's new book helps us uncover the relaxed awareness and freedom that is our very essence.”—Tara Brach, author of

Trusting the Gold

“Knowing that nothing about mind is ordinary, Tibetan Buddhism abounds with surprisingly simple, down-to-earth techniques for harnessing the innate magic of our mind, allowing it to transform adversity into advantage. For many centuries, Tibetans have relied upon the easy-to-apply slogans found in the Seven Points of Mind Training to serve as the very heart of their spiritual path. Here, with crystal clear insight into the complexities of modern life, the exceptionally learned Khentrul Lodro T'hayé Rinpoche inspires his readers to take up those same ancient tools of lojong to infuse their lives with more compassion, equanimity, understanding, patience, and loving kindness for others.”—Chokyi Nyima Rinpoche, author of Sadness, Love, Openness: The Buddhist Path of Joy

Red Tara

The Female Buddha of Power and Magnetism

By Rachael Stevens

$29.95 - TR

About the Book

A complete introduction to the Buddhist goddess Tara, with special emphasis on her form as Red Tara. Tara is one of the most celebrated goddesses in the Buddhist world, representing enlightened activity in the form of the divine feminine. She protects, nurtures, and helps practitioners on the path to enlightenment. Manifesting in many forms and in many colors to help beings, Tara's red form represents her powers of magnetization, subjugation, and the transformation of desire into enlightened activity. Red Tara has gained popularity in recent years with practitioners of Tibetan Buddhism worldwide. She is considered to be particularly powerful in times of plague and disharmony.

This comprehensive overview of Tara focuses on the origins, forms, and practices of Tara, providing the reader with insightful information and inspirations relating to the goddess. Part Two focuses on Red Tara, a powerful and liberating form of Tara that is particularly important to connect with in a time of crisis. These chapters cover various forms of Red Tara found throughout the Tibetan Buddhist world, the particular qualities she represents, and how through prayers and meditation we can embody her principles and truly benefit beings.

An accompanying appendix includes prayers, songs, and meditations on the goddess, enabling readers to directly connect with their compassionate enlightened nature through practices associated with this powerful Buddhist female deity.

About the Author

RACHAEL STEVENS holds a doctorate from Oxford University, is an early education teacher, and is a long-term Buddhist practitioner. Rachael studied Tibetan language and Buddhism while living in the Himalayas, including in Darjeeling, Nepal, and Tibet. Rachael's research focuses on Red Tara, and she has studied and practiced with Buddhist communities in Europe, Asia, North America, and Brazil. Today, Rachael is vice principal at a Buddhist-inspired elementary school in Northern Thailand.

The Ruby Rosary

Joyfully Accepted by Vidyādhara and Ḍākinī as the Ornament of a Necklace

By Thinley Norbu

$39.95 - HC

About the Book

An in-depth presentation of one of the most profound traditions of Tibetan Buddhism—the Dudjom lineage—beginning with the Buddha and tracing the origins and development of the lineage through its Indian and Tibetan masters.

The Ruby Rosary is Thinley Norbu's commentary on a short prayer written by his father, His Holiness Dudjom Rinpoche, who was a revered leader of the Nyingma lineage of Tibetan Buddhism as well as a "revealer of treasures" in the Tibetan tradition. The root text, entitled "The Pearl Necklace," is a prayer of devotion to the eighteen primary masters of the Dudjom incarnation lineage, "strung together into a necklace of liberated lifetimes." With lively storytelling, Thinley Norbu illuminates the life of each of these great yogis, scholars, and masters of the Buddha's teachings, from Nüden Dorje Chang, Shariputra, and Saraha to Dudjom Lingpa. It concludes with an account of the enlightened activities of Dudjom Rinpoche himself, a towering figure, thus completing this awe-inspiring portrait of a modern master.

About the Author

THINLEY NORBU (1931–2011) was a prominent master of the Nyingma lineage of Tibetan Buddhism, revered as an emanation of Longchenpa, a great scholar-saint of the fourteenth century. Among Kyabje Thinley Norbu's numerous books are A Cascading Waterfall of Nectar, The Sole Panacea, and A Brief Fantasy History of a Himalayan.

The Tibetan Yogas of Dream and Sleep

Practices for Awakening

By Tenzin Wangyal Rinpoche

$19.95 - TR

About the Book

Deepen your awareness through the practice of Tibetan dream and sleep yoga. As the author says, "If we cannot carry our practice into sleep, if we lose ourselves every night, what chance do we have to be aware when death comes? Look to your experience in dreams to know how you will fare in death. Look to your experience of sleep to discover whether or not you are truly awake."

We spend a third of our life sleeping and it is common, in many spiritual traditions throughout the world, for the world of dream and sleep to be utilized on the path to awakening. Dream yoga in the Tibetan traditions of dream practice has been the primary support for the realization of many yogis and great Tibetan masters. Now, updated and presented with fresh insight born from years of teaching this practice to Westerners, Tenzin Wangyal clearly presents a powerful method for liberation. With clearly illustrated Tibetan syllables and the places they are to be visualized, this practical guide will be of use to both new and adept practitioners.

About the Author

TENZIN WANGYAL RINPOCHE, a lama in the Bön tradition of Tibet, presently resides in Charlottesville, Virginia. He is the founder and director of Ligmincha Institute, an organization dedicated to the study and practice of the teachings of the Bön tradition. He was born in Amritsar, India, after his parents fled the Chinese invasion of Tibet. He received training from both Buddhist and Bön teachers, attaining the degree of Geshe, the highest academic degree of traditional Tibetan culture. He has been in the United States since 1991 and has taught widely in Europe and America.

About the Book

A selection of 52 short prayers and practices devoted to Tibet's cultural hero Gesar of Ling as an enlightened tantric deity to generate positive circumstances and increase one's experiences and realization in Buddhist practice.

Gesar of Ling is widely known as the hero of Tibet's national oral epic, considered the longest epic in the world. But he is also the focus of Buddhist practices in which his enlightened form, known as King Gesar the Jewel, becomes one of the numerous spiritual methods offered by Tibetan Vajrayana Buddhism to progress toward buddhahood. This work contains the complete selection of practice texts compiled by the early modern Tibetan polymath Jamgön Mipham and included in his Collected Works.

Gesar personifies the ideal of the spiritual warrior, who tames negative forces which obstruct the Buddhist path. The practices presented here detail poetic imagery of offerings and their recipients, including Gesar, his court, and the spirits who dwell in his personal belongings. Vajrayana practices such as these are considered mind treasures, meaning rather than being composed, they appeared fully formed as a transmission with the mind of a Vajrayana master.

About the Author

JAMGÖN MIPHAM (1846–1912), one of the great luminaries of Tibetan Buddhism in modern times, has had a dominant and vitalizing influence on the Nyingma School and beyond. He was an important member of the Rimé, or nonsectarian movement, which did much to strengthen and preserve the entire tradition. A scholar of outstanding brilliance and versatility, his translated works are eagerly anticipated by English-language readers.

GYURME AVERTIN is a France-based translator with the Rigpa Sangha. He began his study of the Tibetan language in 1997. He spent two years following the Tibetan program at Langues'O University in Paris, then studied at the Rangjung Yeshe Institute in Nepal and the Dzongsar shedra in India. He is the translator of The Gathering of Vidyadharas: Text and Commentaries on the Rigdzin Düpa (Snow Lion, 2017).

About the Book

A collection of liturgical and instructional practice texts on the Eight Ancillary Path Cycles of the Sakya lineage of Tibetan Buddhism, compiled by one of Tibet's greatest Buddhist masters.

The Treasury of Precious Instructions by Jamgön Kongtrul Lodrö Taye, one of Tibet's greatest Buddhist masters, is a shining jewel of Tibetan literature, presenting essential teachings from the entire spectrum of practice lineages that existed in Tibet. In its eighteen volumes, Kongtrul brings together some of the most important texts on key topics of Buddhist thought and practice as well as authoring significant new sections of his own. Volumes in this series may be engaged as practice manuals while also preserving ancient teachings significant to the literature and history of world religions.

Volume 6 of the series, Sakya: The Path with Its Result, Part Two, presents a selection of teachings and practices from the Eight Ancillary Path Cycles of the Sakya tradition of Tibetan Buddhism. The Sakya lineage derives from Virūpa, Ḍombhi Heruka, and other Indian masters, or mahāsiddhas, and passes through Gayadhara and his Tibetan disciple Drokmi Lotsāwa śākya Yeshe (992–1072).

The practice tradition centers around the teaching and transmission of the Hevajra Tantra and its subsidiary texts. This second volume of Sakya texts contains oral instructions transmitted to Drokmi Lotsāwa by the early eleventh-century Indian masters, Ācārya Viravajra, Mahāsiddha Amoghavajra, Paṇḍita Prajñāgupta of Oḍḍiyāna, and Paṇḍita Gayadhara. These texts broaden our understanding of how mahāmudrā, the teaching on the nature of mind, is understood and practiced in the Sakya school.

About the Author

JAMGÖN KONGTRUL LODRÖ TAYE (1813–1900) was a versatile and prolific scholar and one of the most outstanding writers and teachers of his time in Tibet. He was a pivotal figure in eastern Tibet's nonsectarian movement and made major contributions to education, politics, and medicine.

MALCOLM SMITH is a translator of classical Tibetan. He began his studies of Tibetan Buddhism in the Sakya school in 1989 and entered a traditional three-year solitary retreat in 1993. In 2004, he was awarded the Ācārya degree by Khenpo Migmar Tseten of the Sakya Institute for Buddhist Studies. In 2009, he graduated from Shang Shung Institute's School of Tibetan Medicine. His principal gurus are H.H. Sakya Trichen and the late Chögyal Namkhai Norbu (1938–2018).
